Spouse/Guest Excursion

In the pre-dawn hours of August 21, 1863, William Quantrill led a band of over 450 pro-slavery guerillas into Lawrence, KS, burning and pillaging much of the town and killing over 150 men and boys as young as 10-14. This is subsequent to the first pro-slavery attack, burning and looting of the city, led by the sheriff of Kansas City on May 21, 1856.

Our excursion will be a guided tour to learn more about these attacks and the period both before and during the Civil War known as “Bleeding Kansas”.

- A Brief history and discussion of this history will be provided.
- View the video Bloody Dawn a documentary and dramatization of the Lawrence Massacre of 1863.
- Tour a few of the sites in Lawrence associated with the massacre.
- Tour the Blackjack battlefield near Baldwin, KS where on June 2, 1856, John Brown and approximately 100 men engaged in the first battle of pro-slavery and anti-slavery forces in the United States.
- Tour Lecompton, KS, site of the first territorial capitol of Kansas and known as the pro-slavery capitol of the state.

Cost for this tour is $35 to cover the transportation rental fees.

Following the tour, lunch will be at a local Lawrence restaurant.

Lunch costs are not included in the transportation fee.
